Good Morning Steve ---- I hope you are doing well --

I got a lot done on this yesterday, would have had more done, but when I needed one, I found that my head gaskets were at my shop 15 miles away... I'll have this finished as much as I do with them on the stand later today. Tomorrow I can have it off the stand and wrapped up to ship, I just need to get my forklift brought over here to the house to be able to shrink wrap. Will have it brought over today or tomorrow.

I need to get your revised invoice to you so I can get paid balance as it is almost ready to go ~ I forgot about that.

Thank you again and I hope the photos look good - The piece de resistance here is the custom right hand side motor mount that allows this to be bolted in instead of having to do any cutting/ welding --- Best, Zak
